Crazy grateful to have caught opening night of Jules Vaquera and Dan Timoskevich's new musical "Nightingale" — with a packed house! — at The Overtime Theater. The music is bluesy & well-crafted, the story is compelling and the cast is fantastic. (Yleana Wooten, in particular, is a great big wow.) Vaquera's immersive approach uses the intimacy of the space to excellent advantage. Go see it!
