

Jason Phelps

January 26 at 9:34 AM · 🌐

Friends, go see this play! Rudy Ramirez has done a brilliant job of casting and creating simple and effective emotional pictures to allow Gabriel Jason Dean's words to ring true. Ann Marie Gordon has also created a gorgeous space for this world. And the acting is precise and powerful. We are so lucky to have such brilliant actors in this town and I am inspired by Kareem Badr and Kacey Samiee's work. I can't believe I've never seen them before. Their chemistry together was sweet and so real! But I need to gush about Lowell (wisely not on FB, but I told this to him last night). I have known him for a long time. I've worked with him as a sound designer, director, and I've seen him in many plays. But last night, I didn't see Lowell. Through his physicality, voice, and timing he embodied a complex and fraught man struggling on many levels to find meaning and truth. It was vulnerable, simple, and very moving. Go see this play!