SARAH MARIE RECOMMENDS: Heartland at The VORTEX

A couple attending the show came into the theatre with a tiny puppy. A tiny adorable puppy. It was all sleepy and eating kibble from a tiny cup on a blanket on the lap of the lady who brought it.

A couple of thoughts...

1. What an interesting choice. To bring a live tiny puppy to a live theatre event.
2. Isn't a puppy too young to be an emotional support dog? How does that even work?
3. DEAR GODS that is the cutest puppy.

(100min later)

4. My face is so wet from crying right now and my hands hurt from clapping furiously and my butt hurts from sitting so rapt and still for so long and my HEART HURTS from this beautiful work and the beautiful acting and the beautiful story.

5. OMF. I wish I brought a puppy. A tiny puppy. A tiny soft silent puppy. MOTHER FUCKER. THEY HAVE A PUPPY. I WANT A PUPPY RIGHT NOW. Evil. Geniuses.

Heartland. Gorgeous and moving. BYOP
